Let's Connect...

January '08

A busy month for Gwent Cables. What have we been up to?!

AS9100 Accreditation Confirmed

In November, our QMS was re-confirmed as meeting the requirements of AS9100. This is enabling us to continue our growth into the aerospace market. Its also means if you are an industrial or commercial customer, you can be sure your products are being made to the very highest quality standards and still enjoy our sharply competitive prices.

Inside Welsh Industry

a programme for people in business

We were delighted to be invited to become a host company on this programme which highlights best practice in Welsh Industry. Our first event in December was a lively affair and attended by a range of companies who share our commitment to Continuous Improvement including British Airways Maintenance Co. We will be holding further events this year so please contact us if you would like to attend.

NAMED AND FRAMED!

We've updated our Organisation Chart (Whaddya mean, so what!). Thought it may help if you have a query as it shows who is responsible for what and it puts a (mostly beautiful) face to a name. Happy spotting, and no false moustaches or fake scars please!

Would you like to discuss your next requirement with any of these fine people?

'TO FREE OR NOT TO FREE'

You may be interested in the 'Talking Point' on our website which takes a light-hearted but honest look at the 'free-issue' issue. We really would love to hear your take on the matter. Plus there's a charity gift on offer too!
